Urban Forestry & Urban Wood Utilization: Portable Sawmill and Kiln Loan Program	The California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (CAL FIRE) currently has several portable sawmills and wood drying kilns available to loan with the objective of allowing communities to investigate, demonstrate, and/or research the feasibility of urban wood milling as a potential business venture. Utilization of this valuable resource also offsets local costs of disposal and diverts green waste from landfills. In addition, CAL FIRE is pursuing opportunities to promote urban wood utilization and to educate the public on the urban forest as a "resource" rather than as "waste." These easements provide a tool to help preserve the rich heritage of private forests. The program is entirely voluntary. Landowners who wish to participate may sell or transfer particular rights, such as the right to develop the property or to allow public access, while retaining ownership of the property and the right to use it in any way consistent with the terms of the easement.
